

Editorial Policy and Style Information

Accounting Horizons is one of three association-wide journals published by the American Accounting Association (AAA). This journal seeks to bridge academic and professional audiences with articles that focus on accounting, broadly defined, and that provide insights pertinent to the accounting profession. The contents of Accounting Horizons, therefore, should interest researchers, educators, practitioners, regulators, and students of accounting. Accordingly, papers submitted for publication must address subjects that appeal to these readers and must be written in a style that communicates effectively across these diverse groups. Authors should explain clearly their technical terms, methodologies, and tabular presentations. An appendix should be used for extensive methodological discussions. Because of the broad focus of this journal, the scope of acceptable manuscripts is also broad. Papers may deal with any aspect of accounting, including—but not limited to—the following topics:

- Accounting ethics
- Assurance services
- Financial reporting
- Impact of accounting on organizations and individual behavior
- Information systems
- Managerial accounting
- Regulation of the profession and related legal developments
- Risk management
- Taxation

The Co-Editors particularly welcome submissions of manuscripts addressing innovative topics and concerns.

One of the main objectives of Accounting Horizons is to establish a dialogue—a bridge of ideas—between accounting academics and the business community. From time to time, the Co-Editors will commission think pieces, memorials, historical and other reviews, editorials, and original research relevant to current issues and the future of the accounting profession. Ideas for such articles may come from the Associate Editors, the Executive Committee of the AAA, or other sources. In addition, reviews of contemporary professional literature, commentaries on practice, and reports of current events will appear when developments warrant.

All submitted articles processed for publication will be peer reviewed. Articles that address an especially timely subject will be evaluated and refereed on an expedited basis to facilitate prompt publication if accepted.

Submission of Manuscripts

Authors should note the following guidelines for submitting manuscripts:

1. Manuscripts currently under consideration by another journal or other publisher should not be submitted. The author must state that the work is not submitted or published elsewhere.
2. New manuscripts must be submitted through the Manuscript Submission and Peer Review System for Accounting Horizons, located at <http://horizons.peerx-press.org>. The site contains detailed instructions regarding the preparation of files for submission. To ensure anonymous review, please note that the article's title page (with author names) must be in a separate file from the manuscript text.
3. In the case of manuscripts reporting on field surveys or experiments, a copy of the instrument (questionnaire, case, interview plan, or the like) should be submitted. The document(s) should be submitted electronically as separate file attachments in the original online submission. Information in the instrument that might identify the authors must be deleted or masked.

4. The nonrefundable submission fee in U.S. funds is $75.00 for members or $100.00 for non-members of the AAA payable by credit card (VISA or MasterCard only). The payment form is available online at: <https://aaahq.org/AAAforms/journals/horsubmit.cfm>. If you are unable to pay by credit card or have any questions please contact the AAA Member Services Team at (941) 921-7747 or info@aaahq.org.
5. Unless stipulated by the Co-Editors, revisions must be submitted within 12 months from request, otherwise they will be considered new submissions.

Comments

Comments on articles previously published in Accounting Horizons will be considered for publication, subject to review by the Editorial Group, the author of the article being critiqued, and other reviewer(s) deemed necessary by the Co-Editors. If a comment is accepted for publication, the original author will be invited to reply. All other editorial requirements, as enumerated above, also apply to proposed comments.

Manuscript Preparation and Style

The Accounting Horizons manuscript preparation guidelines follow The Chicago Manual of Style (15th edition, University of Chicago Press). Another helpful guide to usage and style is The Elements of Style, by William Strunk, Jr., and E. B. White (Macmillan). Spelling follows Merriam-Webster's Collegiate Dictionary.

Format

1. All manuscripts should be formatted using 12-point font. The text should be double-spaced, except for indented quotations.
2. Manuscripts should be as concise as the subject and research method permit. The Editorial Group asks authors to limit the text of the manuscript to 20 double-spaced pages or fewer. We recommend a limit of 30 pages in total for the text, tables, references, and appendices, if applicable.
3. Margins should be at least one inch from top, bottom, and sides to facilitate editing and duplication.
4. To assure anonymous review, authors should not identify themselves directly or indirectly in their papers. Single authors should not use the editorial "we."
5. A separate file should contain the cover page. This page contains the name and affiliation of each author; a complete address, a phone number, and an email address for the corresponding author; and any acknowledgments that the authors wish to make. The cover page must also have a footnote indicating whether the author would be willing to share the data (see last paragraph in this statement).
6. A synopsis of about 150–200 words should be presented on a separate page immediately preceding the text. The synopsis should be nonmathematical and include a readable summary of the research question, method, and the significance of the findings and contribution. The title, but not the author's name or other identification designations, should appear on the synopsis page.

7. All pages, including tables, appendices, and references, should be serially numbered. The cover and synopsis pages are not numbered.
8. The American Accounting Association encourages use of gender-neutral language in its publications.
9. Spell out numbers from one to ten, except when used in tables and lists, and when used with mathematical, statistical, scientific or technical units and quantities, such as distances, weights and measures. For example: three days; 3 kilometers; 30 years. All other numbers are expressed numerically.
10. In nontechnical text use the word percent; in tables and figures, the symbol % is used.
11. Use a hyphen to join unit modifiers or to clarify usage. For example: a well-presented analysis; re-form. See Webster's for correct usage.
12. Headings should be arranged so that major headings are centered, bold, and capitalized. Second-level headings should be flush left, bold, and both uppercase and lowercase. Third-level headings should be flush left, bold, italic, and both uppercase and lowercase. Fourth-level headings should be paragraph indent, bold, and lower case. Headings and subheadings should not be numbered. For example:

A CENTERED, BOLD, ALL CAPITALIZED, FIRST-LEVEL HEADING

A Flush Left, Bold, Uppercase and Lowercase, Second-Level Heading

A Flush Left, Bold, Italic, Uppercase and Lowercase, Third-Level Heading

A paragraph indent, bold, lowercase, fourth-level heading. Text starts...

Tables and Figures

The author should note the following general requirements:

1. Each table and figure (graphic) should appear on a separate page and should be placed at the end of the text. Each should bear an arabic number and a complete title indicating the exact contents of the table or figure.
2. A reference to each table or figure should be made in the text.
3. The author should indicate where each table or figure should be inserted in the text, e.g., (Insert Table X here).
4. Tables or figures should be reasonably interpretable without reference to the text.
5. Notes should be included as necessary.
6. Figures must be prepared in a form suitable for printing.

Mathematical Notation

Mathematical notation should be employed only where its rigor and precision are necessary, and in such circumstances authors should explain in the narrative format the principal operations performed. Notation should be avoided in footnotes. Displayed material should clearly indicate the alignment, superscripts, and subscripts. Equations should be numbered in parentheses flush with the right-hand margin.

Documentation

Citations: Work cited should use the "author-date system" keyed to a list of works in the reference list (see below). Authors should make an effort to include the relevant page numbers in the cited works.

1. In the text, works are cited as follows: author's last name and date, without comma, in parentheses: for example (Jones 1987); with two authors: (Jones and Freeman 1973); with more than two: (Jones et al. 1985); with more than one source cited together: (Jones 1987; Freeman 1986); with two or more works by one author: (Jones 1985, 1987).
2. Unless confusion would result, do not use "p." or "pp." before page numbers: for example: (Jones 1987, 115).

3. When the reference list contains more than one work of an author published in the same year, the suffix a, b, etc., follows the date in the text citation: Example: (Jones 1987a) or (Jones 1987a; Freeman 1985b).
4. If an author's name is mentioned in the text, it need not be repeated in the citation, for example: "Jones (1987, 115) says ..."
5. Citations to institutional works should use acronyms or short titles where practicable: for example, (AAA ASOBAT 1966); (AICPA Cohen Commission Report 1977). Where brief, the full title of an institutional work might be shown in a citation: for example, (ICAEW The Corporate Report 1975).
6. If the manuscript refers to statutes, legal treatises or court cases, citations acceptable in law reviews should be used.

Reference List

Every manuscript must include a list of references containing only those works cited. Each entry should contain all data necessary for unambiguous identification. With the author-date system, use the following format recommended by the Chicago Manual:

1. Arrange citations in alphabetical order according to surname of the first author or the name of the institution responsible for the citation.
2. Use authors' initials instead of proper names.
3. Dates of publication should be placed immediately after authors' names.
4. Titles of journals should not be abbreviated.
5. Multiple works by the same author(s) should be listed in chronological order of publication.
Two or more works by the same author(s) in the same year are distinguished by letters after the date.

Footnotes

Footnotes are not to be used for documentation. Textual footnotes should be used only for extensions and useful excursions of information that if included in the body of the text might disrupt its continuity. Footnotes should be consecutively numbered throughout the manuscript with superscript Arabic numerals. In the initial submissions, footnotes may be at the bottom of the page. In the final version of an accepted manuscript, footnote text should be double-spaced and placed at the end of the article.

Policy on Reproduction

An objective of Accounting Horizons is to promote the wide dissemination of the results of systematic scholarly inquiries into the broad field of accounting.

Permission is hereby granted to reproduce any of the contents of Horizons for use in courses of instruction, as long as the source and American Accounting Association copyright are indicated in any such reproductions.

Written application must be made to the American Accounting Association, 5717 Bessie Drive, Sarasota, FL 34233-2399, for permission to reproduce any of the contents of Horizons for use in other than courses of instruction—e.g., inclusion in books of readings or in any other publications intended for general distribution. In consideration for the grant of permission by Horizons in such instances, the applicant must notify the author(s) in writing of the intended use to be made of each reproduction. Normally, Horizons will not assess a charge for the waiver of copyright.

Except where otherwise noted in articles, the copyright interest has been transferred to the American Accounting Association. Where the author(s) has (have) not transferred the copyright to the Association, applicants must seek permission to reproduce (for all purposes) directly from the author(s).

Policy on Data Availability

The AAA Executive Committee's policy (originally adopted in 1989 and amended in 2009) is that the objective of the Association-wide journals (The Accounting Review, Accounting Horizons, Issues in Accounting Education) is to provide the widest possible dissemination of knowledge based on systematic scholarly inquiries into accounting as a field of professional research and educational activity. To fulfill this objective, authors are encouraged to make their data available for use by others in extending or replicating results reported in their articles.
